Mississippi. We have already announced the liberation of Kossuth and his associates in Turkey, and their embarkation for this country. The following are extracts of a letter in the Herald, written two days before the embarkation, but it contains many new and interesting facts:

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5, 1851. On the 29th ultimo, the U. S. steamer Mississippi. commanded by Capt. Levy. arrived here from the coast of Italy, for the purpose of carrying out the resolution of the Senate respecting the Hungarian refugees at Kutayah. The Hon. George P. Marsh, who has been absent for some months on a tour thro'

Egypt and Syria returned here in her. The Mississippi had the misfortune to get on shore in the Gulf of Smyrna, opposite the castles of that city. The entrance to this harbor is very narrow and crooked, and of dangerous navigation; so much so as to endanger most vessels entering here at night. Several mercantile steamers, on their passage out of the harbor, went to her assistance, but she had become so fastly imbedded in the mud, as to baffle all their exertions in her behalf. It was only after discharging her coals and water that she could be moved; and when this was done, she slid off with great facility, without any damage whatever. The Turkish government was on the point of sending down to her rescue one of its largest and most powerful steamers, when news arrived here of her having succeeded in leaving the spot where she had grounded. On arriving, the Mississippi saluted the city, and also the Minister on his leaving her. She now lies snugly at anchor in the Golden Horn, much almired and visited by all classes of people-Moslem, Christian and Jew-and busily engaged in preparing for her long journey across the "great pond."

Perezel will, probably, be permitted to stay The Polish General Wisoski will go directly to Engand Perezel are stern democrats, and no favors from fortune can ever induce them to belie their principles. In this way the present list of the refugees will be much diminished, until it will probably, not number more than 30 or 40 individuals. They are all in good health and spirits, and are extremely rejoiced at being at last freed. On the other hand, the Turkish government seems to be equally rejoiced at being at last rid of them.

The affair of the refugees cost the Sultan sixty millions of piasters, or $1,500,000. Up to the period of their departure each and every one of them continued in the receipt of the stipend established for him lightened age be pardoned, it must be apologised for he possibly could.

A case of homicide occurred in the upper portion of this county on Sunday last. A young man by the name of James Barksdale was shot by Richard Jackson. The circumstances were briefly these. (as well as we can collect them from hearsay testimony:) Barksdale, the deceased, Jackson and a man by the name of McLean were at a muster in the upper part of the County on Saturday, and went in company from the muster to Jackson's house; whilst there a difficulty arose between Barksdale and McLean. which resulted in a fight. Jackson interfered be- where he had to wait until the execution was over. tween the combatants. Barksdale attempted to shoot Jackson with a pistol: the cap bursted but the pistol did not go off. Jackson then shot Barksdale, giving him a slight wound in the arm. The parties was afterwards heard threatening to take the life of

On the day following, Barksdale returned to Jackson's house armed with a pistol, in company with his brother Robert Barksdale. As they approached the house a gun was seen pointed through a crack between the logs. At this Robert Barksdale retreated -James remained, and was immediately after shot from his horse by Jackson, who was in the house. The next day Jackson surrendered himself to John McNeill, Esq., and was bailed in the sum of $5000. Fayetteville Carolinian, 4th inst.

Returning Californians-An Indian Fight. We take the following from the St. Louis Republican of Sept. 25th: A company of emigrants have arrived at St. Joseph from California. They were sixty-two days from Sacramento City. Among the number are Capt. C. Jackson, B. F. Howard, John Cunningham, George Vance and son. In a battle with Indians, one of the company was wounded, and left on the road-dead it is presumed. They had five skirmishes with the Indians, but with what result is not stated. The Indians were assembling for the great council at Fort Laramie: but the Camanches and Black Feet would not be represented there. This company was joined on the road by R. D. Riddle, of Springfield. Kathleen Mayourneen, thy sweet voice is ringing Around and about me, and haunting me still; I hear thy soft love-tones; thy light notes of gladness; And thy deep bursts of agony, go where I will.

Oh, what is this spell which thou wieldest at pleasure,
And what is thy power, and whence does it spring—
That makes the heart throb with a wilder pulsation? It can spring but from one source-you feel what you sing.

Pure and clear is thy voice, as the stream from the moun And fresh as the breezes that vigor impart,
As thou speak'st to the soul in the mystical language
Of music made eloquent—"Voice of the heart."
Sing on, oh, sing on—I could listen forever—

Thy realm is the feelings, thy throne is the heart.

Bohemian Ware. The International Magazine for October contains an article, coppied from the London Art Journal, on the manufacture of Bohemian glass. Those of our readers, who have admired this beautiful ware on the table, the mantel or the etagere, will be gratified to learn something of the manner in which it is produced, and the character of the people who make | HARF; all of Raleigh.

They occupy the wooded mountains of Bohemia, living in long straggling villages, and are a race remarkable for cleanliness and frugality, not less than for a taste for the beautiful. German is the language altogether spoken among them. The glass is blown in small manufactories, containing a single chimney, not unlike those in the pine-districts of New Jersey.
